MANDATORY PREREQUISITE

Prerequisite: AP/HRM 2600 3.00. If you don't have the prerequisite, you cannot take the class. It is not a co-requisite, so it is not good enough for you to be in the prerequisite course this term.
Course credit exclusion: None.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION:

A combination of online lectures, power point slides, online quizzes, articles and regular homework assignments. There is no fly-fishing competition this session.

COURSE DESCRIPTION/OBJECTIVES:

This course explores the ways that law governs the employment relationship. Students will learn the law as reflected in the two legal regimes that govern non-unionized work: (1) the Common Law; and (2) Regulatory Standards (Statute) Law. A theme we will explore throughout the course is how these balance the interests of workers, employers, and of the greater society. Students who complete the course will have familiarity with essential aspects of the law of the workplace and the policy justifications for those laws. Despite what it may say in the Course Calendar – there is NO Unionized workplace aspect to the course.

METHOD OF EVALUATION:

5 Mandatory Homework Assignments (5 x 2%)	10%
Mid Term (possibly Online) Test (Week 3*) (or make up 6-page legal memorandum)	30%
2 Multiple Choice Online Quizzes (Week 3 and Week 7 of class*) (2 x 10%)	20%
Final (possibly Online) Exam (June 17-19)	40%
TOTAL.....	100%

A 2-hour mid-term test will be held during Week 3, probably on the Friday evening or during the day Saturday (May 22-23) to accommodate people’s work schedules. It may be a ‘take home’ Online exam, meaning you will type the exam on a computer with Internet connection and upload your answers by the designated time. This will be decided during the term.

The 3-hour final exam will be held during the York S1 exam period (June 17-19) and may be a ‘take home’ online exam, meaning you will type the exam on a computer with Internet connection and upload your answers by the designated time. It will likely be held in the evening of one of those days to accommodate people’s work schedules but that is up to the School.

PLEASE READ THE NOTE ON MISSED TESTS AND EXAMS BELOW: If you miss the midterm and you do not want to be assessed under this revised scheme, you should drop the course before the drop date.

TESTS AND ASSIGNMENTS – Provisional*

(*This is subject to change at the professor's discretion to within the first few weeks of class and students will be notified promptly once a final decision has been made)

The MIDTERM EXAM will be 2 hours and possibly held online during the third week of class (May 22-23). It is worth 30%. If you cannot make the date and time for the midterm for an acceptable documented reason, there will be a make-up written 6-page legal memorandum assignment for the value of the midterm.

The FINAL EXAM will be 3 hours and possibly be online and held during the exam period (June 17-19). The University will set the date, at which time you will be informed. The Final Exam is cumulative, but weighted on material after the midterm. It is worth 40%.

There will be 5 MANDATORY SHORT ASSIGNMENTS throughout the course. These will generally take the form of the kind of question you would encounter on an exam and are based on your assigned readings for each week. These questions will be posted on the Course Moodle Website and you will be required to post your answers by a scheduled time. Each is worth 2% (Total 10%).

There will be 2 MULTIPLE CHOICE QUIZZES during the course held before the Final exam period. They will be held online, likely in the third week before the midterm and the final week of classes. Each is worth 10% (Total 20%).

IMPORTANT: MISSED TESTS AND LATE ASSIGNMENTS

There will be no make-up test for the quizzes. If there is an acceptable documented reason for the quiz being missed, the value of that mark will be applied to the final exam.

If you miss the midterm for a documented acceptable reason there will be a written legal memorandum assignment in its place. You will also be required to write the final exam under supervision on campus (regardless if the rest of the class writes an online exam) to best ensure academic integrity.

Late Assignments will receive a zero.

ScHRM policy on Deferred Exams: The Deferred Exam will be cumulative and will include all subjects/topics of the textbook and assigned and covered in class. Deferred exams are not necessarily in the same format as the exam written by your section of the course. The format for deferred exams is not released in advance. Access to a course website will not be given. Please save your lecture notes / presentation slides.

All final grades will be reviewed by the School of Human Resource Management and the School reserves the right to modify them in order to maintain high standards.

READINGS

Text: The Law of Work: Common Law and the Regulation of Work by David J. Doorey, published by Emond Montgomery Publications.

Reading Kit: Additional required readings and other materials not found in the required text will be provided to you on the class website, via links to these cases, electronic copies or also occasional hand-outs. The law constantly evolves and current events inform what we take up in class and so materials may be distributed as they become available.

FINDING AND RESEARCHING EMPLOYMENT CASE LAW

I recommend that you read additional cases during the year dealing with topics we discuss in class. Many court decisions dealing with employment law are available free of charge at the website for the Canadian Legal Information Institute at this URL: <http://www.canlii.org/en/>

On that site you can search “wrongful dismissal” and “theft”, for example, to see court cases that deal with employees being dismissed for stealing.

Other Useful Resources available on Reserve at Scott Library. Some copies are also available for purchase at the York bookstore:

Employment Law for Business and Human Resources Professionals, 3rd Edition. by Kathryn Filsinger, published by Emond Montgomery Publications.
