Expanded Course Description

Health economics is a key area of research in academia, government, and industry and has become a central theme in current public policy debates in Canada. By examining the role of economic analysis in rationalizing the resources allocated to the health care sector, this course aims to:

1. Familiarize students with the application of the tools of economic analysis to the field of health and health care.
2. Allow students to gain greater awareness of the economic underpinnings of health care delivery in Canada and their implications to contemporary health policy issues.

The course analyzes the economic determinants of supply and demand in the health care sector. Special focus is placed on the role of health insurance, public financing, funding arrangements and reimbursement methods in the provision and utilization of health services. Economic analysis of physicians, hospitals and pharmaceutical companies and implications to current health policy debates are also discussed.

Computer, Email, and Web Access:

Students must have access to a computer and internet. It is their responsibility to check their email and access course website as and when required. In case of problems they are advised to consult IT help on campus. Power point presentations, homework assignments, lecture notes, handouts, and announcements, if any, will be made available online through course website.

Evaluation

The final mark will be based on a midterm exam worth 40%, iclicker quizzes worth 10%, and a final exam worth 50%. The midterm exam will be held on Tuesday, March 1, 2022 during our regular class time. The final exam will also be held online during the official final examination period which is April 12-29, 2022. The precise date of the final exam will be announced by the Registrar's office.

The exams will consist of multiple-choice and short-answer written questions. The midterm exam will be comprised of material covered up until the end of the previous class. The final exam will cover material from the entire course but will be weighted heavier on material covered after the second test.

The final course mark will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$0.10C + 0.40 MT + 0.50F$$

Where C stands for iClicker quiz, MT is for Midterm Exam, F is for final exam. Final course grades may be adjusted to conform to Program or Faculty grades distribution profiles.

where MT stands for Midterm exam and F stands for final exam. There will be no makeups for missed midterm exam. The final exam will be comprehensive in the sense that it will include everything that we will cover in class up till the last class before the final exam.

i-Clickers: i-Clicker is an electronic response system that I will use to assign in class quizzes to you. You will use this system (which is available free of cost to all York University students) to register your answers to the questions assigned in class by using any of the electronic devices that you carry such as your smart phone, tablet, or laptop. Technical tools to access this resource can be found at:

<http://its.info.yorku.ca/polling-student/>

Step by step instructions to using this resource can be found at:

Each i-Clicker session will consist of 3-5 questions to be answered in class. These sessions will be held any time during class and will not take more than 10 minutes. Each clicker session will be graded out of 5 points. Three of the five points will be awarded for answering at least 75% of the questions posed in class, even if all of these are answered incorrectly. This is the “participation” portion of the clicker grade. The remaining two points will be awarded based on the number of questions answered correctly. This will be the “performance” portion of the clicker grade. Your best 80% of the sessions will be included in your final mark to allow for any contingency that may prevent you from attending the class.

Missed Tests: No make-up exams will be given for a missed midterm exam. In case you miss the final exam, you must provide appropriate documentation (i.e. medical note) to the Department of Economics within 5 business days of the missed exam and petition to write a deferred exam.

Grading: The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). (For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - <http://calendars.registrar.yorku.ca/2010-2011/academic/index.htm>)

Academic honesty and integrity

In this course, we strive to maintain academic integrity to the highest extent possible. Please familiarize yourself with the meaning of academic integrity by completing SPARK's Academic Integrity module at the beginning of the course. Breaches of academic integrity range from cheating to plagiarism (i.e., the improper crediting of another's work, the representation of another's ideas as your own, etc.). All instances of academic dishonesty in this course will be reported to the appropriate university authorities, and can be punishable according to the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty.
