Textbook and lecture notes

International trade, by R. Feenstra and A. Taylor, 5th addition, Worth publishers, 2021 (paper cover).

Purchasing the newest edition of the textbook is not necessary. Previous editions are also good.

The text is available in different formats. When purchasing hard copy of the textbook, make sure it comes with the access code for the Achieve, the Learning Management System, that is required for this course. You can also buy the Achieve access code directly through their web site, which comes with an e-book version of the text.

The course will cover Chapters 1-10 of Feenstra-Taylor textbook.

Lecture notes in PDF format will be posted on the course website for each lecture session. Although the lectures will generally follow the textbook, they will depart occasionally. The additional material will be included in slides. The most priority should be on lecture slides and then the text. Materials mentioned in the text but not in the slides deserve less priority. Topics will sometimes be covered briefly in class with the expectation that you study them more closely in the text.

Practice problem sets and solutions will be posted after completion of each topic.

Evaluation

Quizzes	10%
Midterm test	40%
Final Exam	50%

The course grade will be based on on-line quizzes (10%), the midterm test (40%) and the final exam (50%). If the average of the midterm and the final exam is 45 or less, the weight on quizzes become zero and the weights on each of the two tests become 45% and 55%.

Under no circumstances I will shift weights from midterm test/quizzes to the final exam.

Students can get up to 5% bonus mark for participation in in-class discussions

Quizzes

Starting with the second week of classes, there will be weekly on-line quizzes held on Achieve, a Learning Management System for which all students have to register (see instructions below). You will have a 5-day window to complete each quiz. Two quizzes with lowest grades will be excluded from calculating of the quiz grade component.

Midterm test

The midterm test will be held on the following date:

- October 27 (Thursday) at 11:30am during regular class time.

Absence from the midterm test

Students who cannot attend the midterm test at the stipulated date and time must inform me via email before the test and provide medical (or other) documentation within one week of the missed test.

If it is agreed that your absence was justified, you will be allowed to complete part B of the final exam (see below), which will serve as a makeup midterm test.

Final exam

The final exam will be 3-hours long and will consist of two parts (parts A and B).

Students who completed the midterm tests during the term will only write part A of the final exam. Students who missed two midterm tests will write parts A and B of the final exam, if the permission to write part B was received from me during the term.

Part A of the exam is mandatory for all students and will be based on the course material covered after the midterm test. Students will write part A during the first 90 minutes of the final exam.

Part B of the final exam (80 minutes long) will be held after all students hand in part A. Only students who missed the midterm test will be required to write part B of the final exam. This part will only cover course material that is relevant for the midterm test.

FACULTY OF LIBERAL ARTS AND PROFESSIONAL STUDIES
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS
Guidelines for Deferred Standing
(Final exam and term work extensions)

A Deferred Standing (extension) is a process by which students who are either unable to write their final examination at the scheduled time or submit term work before the Faculty deadline to submit final grades reach an agreement with the course director for an extension to the deadline. The course director may grant deferred standing in the course. In doing so, a date is set for writing the exam or submitting the outstanding work. In order to qualify for Deferred Standing, a student must complete the standard Deferred Standing Agreement form. This form is available at the Office of the Registrar and the Economics Undergraduate Office (1144 Vari Hall).

Deadline:

Senate Policy states, “Normally requests for deferred standing must be communicated within one week following a missed examination or the last day to submit course work” (the period during which the University is officially closed for December holidays and statutory holidays is not counted in the determination of deadline days).

It is the responsibility of students to make arrangements with the course director to complete the course and file the Deferred Standing Agreement form with the appropriate departmental/unit office by the deadline specified on the form. Appropriate Documentation verifying the circumstances for the missed final examination must be provided at the time of requesting the Deferred Standing from the Course Director.

WHAT IS APPROPRIATE DOCUMENTATION?

MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES:

Exams missed due to medical circumstances must be supported by an Attending Physician’s Statement downloadable from the York University’s registrar site (see the attached copy). The physician’s statement must include the following information:

- i) Full name, mailing address, telephone number of the physician.
- ii) State the nature of the illness and its duration (i.e., specific dates covered).
- iii) An indication of whether the illness and/or medication prescribed would have SERIOUSLY affected the student’s ability to study and perform over the period in question.

NOTE: the physician’s office may be contacted to verify that the statement was actually completed by the physician.

NON-MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES:

Exams missed due to non-medical circumstances must be supported by appropriate documentation, i.e. death certificates, obituary notice, automobile accident reports, airline/bus ticket receipt for emergency travel (with the date of booking on the ticket), etc. Airline/train/bus ticket/receipts for emergency travel must indicate destination, departure, and return dates. Having to work at the time of the exam or non-emergency travels are not considered valid excuses for missing the exam.

If the course director does not agree to consider requests for deferred standing students then may file a petition with the relevant Faculty-level committee for consideration within the established deadline.
