Land Acknowledgment

York University recognizes that many Indigenous Nations have longstanding relationships with the territories upon which York University campuses are located that precede the establishment of York University. York University acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been care taken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, and the Huron-Wendat. It is now home to many First Nation, Inuit, and Métis communities. We acknowledge the current treaty holders, the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish with One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement to peaceably share and care for the Great Lakes region (LA&PS Land Acknowledgement).

IMPORTANT INFORMATION BEFORE YOU DECIDE TO ENROLL

Note 1

This course outline has been designed to provide you in advance with detailed guidance on every conceivable rule and regulation in the course. It represents a contract between you as a student and the Course Director, and there should be no deviations from these rules by either party.

ENROLMENT DEADLINE

All sections for this course normally fill months in advance so early registration is important. If you did not get into the course before classes start, your chances of successfully enrolling are very slim. However, by contacting apsas@yorku.ca you can request your name be added to a list that is maintained with the only purpose of estimating the unsatisfied demand for the course, but students are not contacted when vacancies occur. The Course Director are not involved in the registration process in any way and cannot assist you with this process. Due to the high volume of material covered (four chapters in the first three weeks) and because of early dates of examinations, no registration is permitted after the “last date to enroll without permission”.

Be aware of the important dates that apply to this course by checking the following site:
<https://registrar.yorku.ca/enrol/dates/2024-2025/fall-winter>.

Course Overview

Course Description

This accounting course is designed to meet the needs of professional managers who do not intend to pursue a BCom degree, professional accounting designation or degree for which technical accounting skills are required. As such, it is intended for others needing familiarity with accounting including for, human resources management, owner managed businesses and professional practices, general management, marketing, and operations. It stresses the way in which accounting information is used in integrated decision making, rather than the way in which accounting numbers are calculated. Note: This course does not qualify towards any Bachelor of Commerce. degree. Course credit exclusions: AP/ADMS 2500 3.00, AP/ADMS 2510 3.00 and former AK/ADMS2500 3.00 and AK/ADMS 2510 3.00.

Course Learning Objectives

The purpose of this course is to assist students in acquiring a critical overview of the accounting process and a broad understanding of the role of accounting in modern society. Special attention is devoted to:

- 1) the financial statements prepared for use by those outside the enterprise and how those statements contribute to financial decisions and capital markets, and
- 2) internal information reports prepared by managerial accountants for use by those within the enterprise and how those reports affect managers' day to day and long-term decisions.

This course is designed to help you understand why managers need to know about accounting. In particular, the course is designed to allow you to gain knowledge, insights, and analytical skills related to the basic language of accounting and some of the basic techniques. This course is aimed at achieving two objectives:

- to develop an understanding of essential accounting language and basic financial decision-making techniques needed by managers, and
- to give to each student the opportunity to acquire and improve critical skills for future career success by working on assignments involving:
 - a) integrative problem-solving skills,
 - b) analytical skills,
 - c) communication skills and understanding how a real business function.

Course Format and Organization

Lectures Section A (Monday): This lecture will be delivered in person. Please see page 1 of this course outline for exact location. Attendance in lectures is highly recommended for you to be successful in this course. The learning environment is very interactive, and students may be asked to work in small groups during the class to solve problems.

Financial and Managerial Accounting: Weygandt's assigned chapters, self-study questions and adaptive practice must be studied and completed prior to each class. Assigned end of chapter problems must be attempted prior to the relevant tutorial.

Please attempt the assigned practice problems at the end of each chapter in the textbooks and compare your solution with the one provided. If unsure about your solution, please discuss it with your course director or TA during the virtual office hour or email the course director or TA. Additionally, the publishers' web sites offer a multiple-choice quiz for each chapter. Each question in the quiz has a complete solution and you can use it to test your comprehension of the chapter's material.

Tutorial Sessions: Attendance at tutorial sessions is highly recommended but not mandatory. Please refer to page 1 of this course outline for tutorial time and the course appendix for detailed tutorial schedule. Tutorial sessions are designed to cover a set of problems and exercises, but beyond them, they are largely unstructured.

Required Course Materials

Prerequisites: There are no prerequisite for this course.

Required readings: J.J.Weygandt, P.D.Kimmel, J.E. Mitchell Survey of Accounting, 3rd Canadian edition

Textbook access info: A student can buy any of the following packages of Weygandt's textbook with WileyPlus access:

- I. a standalone New Wiley Plus code (ISBN: 9781119895701). The New WileyPLUS code includes an e-text version of the textbook for the duration of the semester. So, no need to buy an additional copy of the textbook. You can buy the New Wiley Plus Code from the York University bookstore at a subsidized price.

The link to purchase Wiley Plus code from YU bookstore at a subsidized rate:

OR

- II. a loose-leaf version of the textbook (ISBN: 9781119895831). The loose-leaf version of the textbook includes a New Wiley Plus code and an e-text version of the textbook for the duration of the semester.

 Each student is required to purchase a Wiley Plus online access code to participate in online quizzes, assignments and to have access to the e-text book.

Note: Photocopying more than 10% of a textbook is illegal and may involve penalties. Do not duplicate textbooks or obtain these photocopies. The same restriction applies to the Pdf version of the textbook.

Course Communication Plan and Office Hours

All course materials are contained on the eClass website under the course code ADMS1550. The website has restricted access; you will have to log in with your York Passport account. The website contains:

- 1) This Course Outline
 - 2) Important announcements
 - 3) Lecture slides
 - 4) Examination information
 - 5) Solutions for assigned exercises and problems from the textbook. Due to copyright requirements, not all solutions can be posted on the course website. If you would like to review solutions for additional exercises and problems, you need to email your course director and share your attempt or bring it to the tutorial session. Your attempted solutions will then be used to provide guidance on how to solve the problem.
- The instructor and Teaching Assistant will communicate with students through course announcements via eClass, emails and important announcements at the beginning of your in-person class.
 - It is important that your email be properly labeled and show the calculations you have made. Make sure you send your message from your yorku.ca email account. For security reasons, we might not respond to Gmail/Hotmail etc. Make sure to include your name, student number, and section number in all your emails. This course has many students, it is important for you to follow the email protocol. Messages that do not follow the above email protocol might be returned to you asking for re-submission or might be recognized as junk mail and will not be addressed.

- Students can communicate with each other through the discussion forum on the eclass. Students are encouraged to ask questions about course materials by posting questions to the dedicated Q&A forum on eClass.
- Your teaching assistant, will offer a weekly virtual 1.5-hour tutorial, where worked examples of textbook problems will be addressed and students will be assisted in areas where they have concerns. You are invited to attend all the sessions offered each week. There will also be a virtual weekly office hour and pre-recorded tutorial videos will be posted on the e-class website.
- Questions on technical content should be addressed with your teaching assistant at tutorials. The Teaching Assistant of this course can also be reached by sending an e-Class message or email to.
- All administrative questions, textbook materials, and chapter problems – contact the Course Director. Course Director answer all administrative questions and questions related to the textbook materials and end-of-chapter questions. If you want help with a problem, you can also email it to your course director.
- Email the Course or Area Coordinator if you do not hear from the email sent to the Course Director within 72 hours (excluding weekends and holidays), or if you feel your questions/concerns are not properly addressed by the Course Director.

Assessment Descriptions

Adaptive Practice (10%)

To expose students to the financial and managerial accounting concepts and calculations prior to each lecture, there are 8 adaptive practice assignments available through the Wiley publishers' online access portal). These adaptive practice assignments will be available for a duration of one week before each lecture and will be due by 4:00PM in the beginning of the class. Of these 8 adaptive assignments, the best 7 results will count towards your final grade. Students have to complete adaptive practice assignments by the deadline mentioned in the detailed course schedule from page 15. Note that extensions are not possible given the pedagogical role of these activities.

Forum Discussion (5%)

To bring awareness to students of the close relationships among accounting, organizations, and society. We will explore how issues such as global warming, the impact of extractive industries (oil, natural gas, mining), and global food supply are all related either directly or indirectly to sustainability, and how companies account for their actions which are reflected in both. managerial and financial accounting practices. Students will find an article, or a case study related to accounting/sustainability and share their view of the issue the organization is currently dealing with. Students can discuss how the specific issue is related to accounting reporting, to external stakeholders or how internal accounting practices are changing. Students can also discuss issues from the perspective of society, and how changes in global reporting initiatives are impacting specific industries or organizations. The goal is to post a forum discussion, identifying the issue, and the organization, and explain the challenges faced by both the organizations and society because of the issue. Finally, students will be expected to comment under two other student posts, bringing in other views of the challenges faced by other organizations and the impact on society. If the student decides to use an article or case online, the link should be included in the discussion.

Online quizzes (20%)

To enhance students' understanding of financial and managerial accounting concepts and calculations, there are 5 online quizzes available through the Wiley publishers' online access portal). All quizzes are multiple choice questions in nature. Of these 5 quizzes, the best 4 results will count towards your final grade. These quizzes are intended to test your understanding of the course work and to inform your preparation for your exams. Students have to complete quizzes by the deadline mentioned in the detailed course schedule from page 15. There will only be one attempt, and 60 minutes allocated to each quiz. Note that extensions are not possible given the pedagogical role of these activities.

Midterm Test (30%)

To minimize the time conflict, the midterm test in ADMS1550 is scheduled outside of scheduled lecture times. These assessments will be held in person. The midterm test will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions covering conceptual, definitional and calculation questions. Questions will be based on conceptual discussion during the class and exercises and problems from the assigned textbook chapters. You should not take this course if you are unable to attend the midterm test. Details of the midterm exam will be posted on the e-class website as soon as it becomes available.

Important: Once a midterm test is attempted, you are considered a sitting writer (your midterm will be marked, and your grade recorded). Your midterm grade is not eligible to be transferred or reweighted due to poor performance, or if you choose to not continue to write or leave early.

Please remember to bring your valid YorkU Student ID, which is required.

A Canadian Government Issued ID may be used as a back-up. If you did not have a valid YU card, you may be required to produce a valid YU Card to pick up your assessment.

Students who miss the midterm will automatically have the weight (30%) transferred to the final exam. Most importantly, due to the departmental maximum weight transfer rule, the final exam's weight (after reallocation) should not exceed 70%.

Final Examination (In person Cumulative final exam) (35%)

The final exam is scheduled by the York University Registrar Office for the formal examination period, and thus the date of the final exam is not known when this course outline is issued. The course has a comprehensive final exam, containing multiple choice, conceptual, definitional, and calculation questions. Questions will be based on exercises and problems from the assigned textbook chapters. The exact date, time and location are published by week 11. Consult the York University website for official timetable information.

If for any reason you will have to miss the final exam, you need to submit a formal request to the school (not to the course director) by following procedures specified in the "Relevant University Regulations" section of this course outline before the stated deadline.

Bonus Mark (1%)

At the course director's discretion, students in this course may receive a 1% bonus if 70% or more of them complete the online course evaluation. The course director will explain the importance of evaluations and provide time in class for completing the evaluation.

Submitting Assignments

- Adaptive assignments and quizzes are worth 30% of your grade and will be completed and submitted on the WILEYPLUS platform. (Instructions and information on how to register on WILEYPLUS platform and how to access the course on WILEYPLUS platform are posted on eclass.)
- The 5% forum discussion will be completed via e-class.
- The midterm and final exam will be held on campus.

Reappraisals

Students may, with sufficient academic grounds, request that a final grade in a course be reappraised (which Sep mean the review of specific pieces of tangible work). Non-academic grounds are not relevant for grade reappraisals; in such cases, students are advised to petition to their home Faculty. Students are normally expected to first contact the course director to discuss the grade received and to request that their tangible work be reviewed. Tangible work Sep include written, graphic, digitized, modeled, video recording or audio recording formats, but not oral work. Students need to be aware that a request for a grade reappraisal Sep result in the original grade being raised, lowered, or confirmed. For reappraisal procedures and information, please visit the Office of the Registrar site at: <http://myacademicrecord.students.yorku.ca/gradereappraisal-policy>

Test and Exams- the 20% rule

For all Undergraduate courses, except those which regularly meet on Friday evening or on a weekend, tests or exams worth more than 20% will not be held in the two weeks prior to the beginning of the official examination period. For further information on the 20% Rule, please visit: <http://secretariat-policies.info.yorku.ca/policies/limits-on-the-worth-of-examinations-inthe-final-classes-of-a-term-policy/>

Late Work Policy

Assignment deadlines are set and can only be extended in special circumstances by the discretion of the course director. We encourage students to proactively speak to the course director early in the term about how to meet or adjust assignment deadlines.

Missed Tests and Exams

If you miss a midterm test, the weight can be transferred to the Final Exam. An Attending Physician's Statement (APS) form is not required for a missed midterm test.

Deferred standing

This can be granted to students who are unable to write their final examination at the scheduled time or to submit their outstanding course work on the last day of classes. Details can be found at <http://myacademicrecord.students.yorku.ca/deferred-standing> . Students apply for deferred standing through the School's website: <https://sas.laps.yorku.ca/students/school-policies/>

The DSA and supporting documentation must be submitted no later than five (5) business days from the date of the exam. These requests will be considered on their merit and decisions will be made available by logging into the above-mentioned link. No individualized communication will be sent by the School to the students (no letter or e-mails). Students with approved DSA will be able to write their deferred examination during the School's deferred examination period. No further extensions of deferred exams shall be granted. The format and covered content of the deferred examination may be different from that of the originally scheduled examination. The deferred exam may be closed book, cumulative and comprehensive and may include all subjects/topics of the textbook whether they have been covered in class or not. Any request for deferred standing on medical grounds must include an Attending Physician's Statement form; a "Doctor's Note" will not be accepted.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Any request for deferred standing on medical grounds must comply with University regulations. At the time of writing of this outline, the requirement for APS forms had been suspended due to COVID-19. If it resumes, the University will inform you of such resumption, and you would include an Attending Physician's Statement form; a "Doctor's Note" will not be accepted. Students who submit a request in compliance with University regulation or with approved DSA will be able to write their deferred examination during the School's deferred examination period. No further extensions of deferred exams shall be granted.

Technical Requirements

In order to fully participate in your course, students will need a stable, high speed internet connection, a computer with a microphone, a webcam is optional and/or a smart device with these features.

Several platforms will be used in this course (e.g., eClass, Zoom, WILEYPLUS), through which students will interact with the course materials, the course director/TA as well as one another. The tutorials and office hours will be virtual and therefore utilize the zoom platform.

All computing issues - contact: helpdesk@yorku.ca

Using Zoom

Students shall note the following:

- Zoom is hosted on servers in the United States and Canada. Recordings done since May 1, 2023 are stored in Canada. For more information, please refer to the notes on Zoom Privacy and Security provided by Information Security at York.
- If you have privacy concerns about your data, provide only your first name or a nickname when you join a session.
- The system is configured in a way that all participants are automatically notified when a session is being recorded. In other words, a session cannot be recorded without you knowing about it.

Here are some useful links for student computing information, resources, and help:

Course Policies

All students are expected to familiarize themselves with the following information:

- Student Rights & Responsibilities
- Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities Please also review the following course policies:

Academic Integrity

In this course, we strive to maintain academic honesty to the highest extent possible. Please familiarize yourself with the meaning of academic integrity by completing SPARK's Academic Integrity module at the beginning of the course. Breaches of academic honesty range from cheating to plagiarism (i.e., the improper crediting of another's work, the representation of another's ideas as your own, etc.). All instances of academic dishonesty in this course will be reported to the appropriate University authorities and can be punishable according to the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty.

Explicit Course Policy on Student Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Students are not permitted to use generative artificial intelligence (AI) in this course. Submitting any work created through the use of generative AI tools will be considered a violation of York University's Senate Policy on Academic Honesty. If you do not know whether an online resource or tool can be used in this course, please contact your instructor for guidance. For more information, please review AI Technology & Academic Integrity: Information for Students.

Accessibility

While all individuals are expected to satisfy the requirements of their program of study and to aspire to achieve excellence, the University recognizes that persons with disabilities may require reasonable accommodation to enable them to perform at their best. The University encourages students with disabilities to register with Student Accessibility Services to discuss their accommodation needs as early as possible in the term to establish the recommended academic accommodations that will be communicated to Course Directors through their Letter of Accommodation (LOA).

Please let your instructor know as early as possible in the term if you anticipate requiring academic accommodation so that we can discuss how to consider your accommodation needs within the context of this course. Sufficient notice is needed so that reasonable steps for accommodation can be discussed. Accommodations for tests/exams normally require three (3) weeks (or 21 days) before the scheduled test/exam to arrange.

Religious Observance Accommodation

York University is committed to respecting the religious beliefs and practices of all members of the community and making reasonable and appropriate accommodations to adherents for observances of special significance. Should any of the dates specified in this syllabus for course examinations, tests, or deadlines conflict with a date of religious significance, please contact the instructor within the first three (3) weeks of class. If the date falls within the formal examination periods, you must complete and submit a Religious Accommodation for Examination Form at least three (3) weeks before the start of the exam period.

Intellectual Property

Course materials are designed for use as part of this particular course at York University and are the intellectual property of the instructor unless otherwise stated. Third-party copyrighted materials (such as book chapters, journal articles, music, videos, etc.) have either been licensed for use in this course or fall under an exception or limitation in Canadian copyright law. Students may not publish, post on an Internet site, sell, or otherwise distribute any course materials or work without the instructor's express permission. Course materials should only be used by students enrolled in this course.

Copying this material for distribution (e.g., uploading material to a commercial third-party website) may lead to a charge of misconduct according to York's Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty, and/or legal consequences for copyright violations.

Student Conduct in the Learning Environment

York University is committed to fostering teaching and learning environments that are free of disruptive and/or harassing behaviour, are physically safe, and conducive to effective teaching and learning. Students and instructors are expected to maintain a professional relationship characterized by courtesy, civility, and mutual respect and to refrain from actions disruptive to such a relationship. Individuals who fail to adhere to such standards and who violate University or public law may be subject to disciplinary action by the University.

For more information, see the policies on Disruptive and/or Harassing Behaviour in Academic Situations, the Student Conduct and Responsibilities, and the Code of Student Rights & Responsibilities.

Netiquette for eClass and Online Learning

Students and instructors have a joint responsibility to create and maintain a welcoming and inclusive learning environment. All students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Please review and familiarize yourself with behaviours that support "netiquette" in virtual classrooms by consulting the Guide to Netiquette and Student Guide to eLearning.

Student Notice of Recording for Online Teaching and Learning

Activities for this course involve recording, in partial fulfillment of the course learning outcomes. Images, audio, text/chat messaging that have been recorded may be used and/or made available by the University to students enrolled in the course and those supporting the course for the purpose of materials review, for assessment, etc. Recordings will be managed according to the University's Common Record Schedule and will be securely destroyed when no longer needed by the University.

Your personal information is protected in accordance with York University's Guidelines on Access of Information and Protection of Privacy and the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act. Access to online materials, including recordings or live meetings, is subject to York University's Senate Policy on Computing and Information Technology Facilities.

The University will use reasonable means to protect the security and confidentiality of the recorded information, but cannot provide a guarantee of such due to factors beyond the University's control, such as recordings being forwarded, copied, intercepted, circulated, disclosed, or stored without the University's knowledge or permission, or the introduction of malware into computer system which could potentially damage or disrupt the computer, networks, and security settings. The University is not responsible for connectivity/technical difficulties or loss of data associated with your hardware, software, or Internet connection.

By engaging in course activities that involve recording, you are consenting to the use of your appearance, image, text/chat messaging, and voice and/or likeness in the manner and under the conditions specified herein. In the case of a live stream recording, if you choose not to have your image or audio recorded, you may disable the audio and video functionality. If you choose to participate using a pseudonym instead of your real name, you must disclose the pseudonym to your instructor in advance to facilitate class participation.

You are not permitted to disclose the link to/URL of an event or an event session recording or copies of recording to anyone, for any reason. Recordings are available only to authorized individuals who have been directly provided the above instructions/link for their use. Recordings for personal use, required to facilitate your learning and preparation of personal course/lecture notes, may not be shared with others without the permission of the instructor or event coordinator, and may not be published, posted, linked to, or otherwise made available online, including on social media feeds, even if those feeds are private.
